

I urge the DOT to recognize that not one square inch of Indiana is geographically in the Eastern Time Zone. The whole state should be on Central Time. If you change the state to Eastern, you will just have to change it back at a later date.